When you learn a foreign language, you study its grammar. Grammar is also important when you speak your native language. Grammar is very important because it is a set of rules which tell us how a language works. Every language has its own set of rules. These rules explain what different kinds of words do and how they work together. For example, you can take basic types of words. They are parts of speech. We need to know grammar to put this or that word into the correct part of a sentence. So, everybody needs grammar.

Winter mood

It was a nice snowy winter in the town. Soft snow was falling onto the trees and roofs of the houses. However, Jessica was not with this weather because she didn't like winter. She wanted to have summer all year round.

At the end of the week, Jessica's family was going to drive an hour north to the ski hill. They would Saturday there, going to the top of a frosted mountain and following the hills down. Jessica not to go with them. She wanted to warm and dry at home. Her parents didn't argue with her and invited her Grandma. She was coming to their house to after Jessica. They were going to have a wonderful time together drinking hot tea with strawberry jam and watching films about summer holidays.
