Everybody has their own favourite season. Still, many people all over the world love winter most of all. Winter is the coldest time of the year. The word winter comes from an old word which meant time of water. It means that there is a lot of cold rain or snow in winter. Winter begins on the day with the fewest hours of sunlight. In the Northern Hemisphere it happens in December but in the Southern Hemisphere it is in June. In winter people put on warm clothes to spend time outdoors. People love winter for many reasons like white snow and winter games.

On the way to school, I always sing along with the radio. My mom doesn't  it at all, but my singing annoys Sam. He always asks me to stop, but I think he should just ignore it. My mom usually doesn't like speaking in the morning. I think it's sometimes nice just to  the people walking along the sidewalks out of the car window instead of talking
