A) Рубрика

Coffee drinking was first mentioned in the 15th century. Scientists believe it was at that time when people started making coffee the way we make it now. It was probably in Yemen where people started roasting and brewing coffee beans but there are other theories as well. In the 16th century coffee was brought to Turkey and it was exported to Western Europe from there.

B) Рубрика

There are several ways of growing coffee. The traditional method is to place 20 seeds in each hole at the beginning of the rainy season. This method loses about 50% of the seeds because half of them fail to grow into coffee plants. A more effective process of growing coffee, used in Brazil, is to raise coffee plants in special greenhouses and then plant them outside at six to twelve months.

C) Рубрика

Scientists think that shade-grown coffee is better for the environment than full-sun systems because the shade is needed by a lot of living organisms like birds and insects. Still, there are a lot of environmental problems connected with growing coffee. One of them is the amount of water necessary for it because coffee is mainly grown in the countries where there's water shortage.

D) Рубрика

Coffee export can bring a lot of money for the country which does it. In 2016, world production of green coffee beans was 9.2 million tons, led by Brazil. This country alone produces 33% of the total amount of coffee. Vietnam, Colombia and Indonesia were other major producers. These countries greatly depend on coffee export in their economic systems.

E) Рубрика

Once made, coffee may be drunk in a variety of ways. You may make strong or weak coffee. Coffee with milk is called white coffee whereas if you don't add milk to your coffee, you drink it black. Some people like to have their coffee hot, but others prefer cold coffee. You may also make flavoured coffee. In coffee houses you may get a cappuccino, a latte or an espresso.

When exams are coming closer, it is very important to study effectively. Few students know how to study for exams in the right way. First of all, you should collect all the textbooks and notes that you have. It is not a good idea to look for your notes each time you need to study. One more tip is to start your revision long beforehand. If you have a night or two before your exam, you will feel stressed and tired. There are many subjects which you simply cannot learn this way. Moreover, when you read the textbook, you should try to really understand what you are reading. Use special techniques to remember facts and figures quickly and easily. Find the time when you feel most active during the day and use it to study. This will help you to cope with stress and pass your exams successfully.
